The co-op, organized three years ago, has built 340 miles of lines in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties and now serves over 900 patrons in the three counties. Nine trunk lines for long distance calls connect with the General Telephone Corporation lines at Morehead and Southern Bell at Winchester.

A LETTER FROM ONE PREACHER TO ANOTHER

Elder R. H. Ferguson
Dingus, Kentucky

Dear Bro. Ferguson:

Guess you will be somewhat surprised to get a letter from me, but a great deal of our lives are made up with surprises anyway. But I hope this letter will reach you to you, I often think of you and wish I could hear you preach again. Some times I get awfully hungry to hear some old time preaching again. But most all our old time preachers have gone on, and it can't be long until we, too, shall pass on.

There was once a large flourishing Free Will Baptist church at Mainville near here but finally the leaders had passed on or moved away until when I came here in 1921 the church had ceased to function and there had not been a church meeting held for more than five years. But a few faithful ones were still holding Sunday school services in order to hold their church property. And by the help of the good Lord I began to hold weekly services and people began coming back and we reorganized into a Regular Baptist church. There were also some several Kentucky people who had located around close and it soon became the leading rural church in the county.

I served for about 18 years as pastor. I then gave over to younger ministers and now we have a flourishing church with an all-time minister on the field.

What little I have done here I have done it as to the Lord, without any salary from the people for I felt that I owed it to the Lord for His goodness and mercies to me and my family. I have lived to see my family all converted and all members of the church, and that is worth more to me than money.

Of course I have a good home and everybody is nice and good to me, but home isn't what it used to be since my companion of life was called from us some six years ago. I am now in my 88th year.

FLOOD CONTROL SURVEY STARTS

A field survey party of ten men representing three state and federal agencies commenced work Monday making a field survey of the upper Little Sandy river and its tributaries in Elliott county.

The survey is a part of the work being done toward obtaining flood control and watershed construction projects on the Little Sandy river and its tributaries. The field party includes personnel from the Soil Conservation Service, the U. S. Department of Engineers and the Kentucky State Division of Forestry.

The party is mapping sites for retention structures, locating and mapping critically eroded areas, silted areas and flood-damaged areas. They also are studying the possibility of stream-channeling and straightening and ground coverage.

When the party completes its field work it will make recommendations to the Watershed Association as to what the needs are to control floods. They also will report their findings to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Previous hearings have disclosed that farmlands along the stream and its tributaries are damaged an average of one million dollars a year by floods and erosion.

Rabid Foxes Killed

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 8.—Laboratory tests show that 16 foxes infected with rabies were killed in eight Eastern Kentucky counties in the past three months.

And Dr. R. L. Hectorne, supervisor of veterinary public health for the State Health Department, said at least 16 more probably were killed but their heads were not submitted for analysis.

The counties involved were Breathitt, Boyd, Lawrence, Rowan, Bath, Estill, Lee and Owsley. He said Breathitt has been especially affected although only two positive heads have been submitted from that area. Eight of nine head of livestock have been destroyed by rabid foxes in Breathitt and two persons were attacked by infected foxes. And a rabid horse, infected by a fox, bit two other persons.

Dr. Hectorne said the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources plans to take steps to reduce the fox population in Breathitt. He also reported that vaccination of dogs in the county apparently made the dog population fairly immune to rabies. He said more vaccination clinics will be held soon.

33 Attend Fifth Farm and Home Meet Held Here

Thirty-three people representing 18 farm families attended the fifth meeting of the Morgan County Extension Service Farm & Home Development. Twelve of the families attending are enrolled in the Farm and Home Development record book. Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair discussed the record book and planning the family budget.

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT IS EXPLAINED

Carl W. Sinclair, Morgan county agricultural agent, in cooperation with the Ashland District Office of the Social Security Administration, held two county-wide meetings for the farmers of Morgan county Monday. These meetings were held for the purpose of informing the farmers of this area regarding their rights and responsibilities under the Social Security law.

Frank M. Wright, Field Representative from the Ashland office, was the guest speaker. Mr. Wright pointed out that the earnings of farm operators were covered under the social security law effective January 1, 1955, but that this income would not be reported until after the end of this year for those farmers who report on a calendar year basis. He also explained that the law was compulsory, and that farm income for social security must be reported provided the farmer met the requirements of the law.

Mr. Wright also explained that cash wages of $100 or more paid to agricultural employees by a single employer were now covered and should be reported.

He pointed out the importance of keeping a record of the name, social security number, and the amount of earnings for these employees. The value of social security benefits which can be paid both to farm operators and to farm employees was explained.

After farmers became insured under the social security law, benefits can be paid to their families in the event of their death, or to themselves and certain other members of their family when the farmer reaches retirement age.

The film, "They Need to Know," was shown to 111 farmers attending these meetings.

KIWANIS CLUB IS HOST TO SCOUTS AT MEET HERE

Local Scout Unit Has Best Rating In This Region

The West Liberty Boy Scouts and their leader, Rev. Glenn McAlister, were guests of the Kiwanis Club at its dinner meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. Alec Spencer was in charge of the program and reported the district meeting of Scouts at West Liberty Tuesday night was the best and largest in the district and that representatives from headquarters said it was one of the best and most active in the area.

Dr. Spencer paid tribute to Rev. McAlister for the fine work he has done as Scoutmaster, and to the Boy Scouts of the local troop. He said for them to be good boys not only in Scouting but in all things. He promised them that he would help them go hiking and camping when the weather permits and will give his own time.

Kiwanis President pledged the club would help and also complimented Mr. McAlister for building the troop to be one of the largest.

Scout Bobby Nickell thanked the club for the faith and interest they have had in the Scouts and hoped it would be justified. Darryl Spencer, another Scout, said the club had grown from nine members to 28 members, divided into four patrols.

Leonard Ruth led the Scouts in the pledge and oath of a Scout and introduced their leaders.

Mr. McAlister said he had enjoyed every moment of his work with the boys and complimented them highly. He added that the local troop was one of five that had been awarded merit for attendance. They have a goal for another patrol.

Don Sebastian of Lexington was a guest of the club.

President Potter announced the committee through the Commercial Bank here since the selling season opened Nov. 30. Morgan Aid Sought In Reporting Any Downed Enemy Aircraft

An officer of the Air Defense Command's 4062nd Air Intelligence Squadron of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio was in West Liberty Wednesday to enlist the cooperation of local officers and citizens in making quick reports of any enemy aircraft shot down in this area in the event of an air attack on the United States.

The officers conferred at length with Morgan County Sheriff Aaron Lykins and other officers, all of whom pledged their complete cooperation with the Air Defense Command.

The officer went from here to Sandy Hook to confer with Elliott county officials.

In the event of an air attack on the continental United States, the officer said that it can be anticipated that a considerable number of enemy aircraft will be downed by U. S. fighter-interceptor action, by anti-aircraft artillery damage, by exhaustion of fuel, or by mechanical failure. The enemy aircraft, the crewmen and the documents in the aircraft or in possession of crewmen represent significant sources of intelligence information. This information can be of estimable value in the conduct of air defense operations but only if it is

BURLEY INCOME UP TO $2,493,485

Morgan county's cash income from the 1954 burley tobacco crop rose to $2,493,485.87 this week but checks from late sales are coming in very slowly now.

A total of 3681 tobacco checks have cleared through the Commercial Bank here since the selling season opened Nov. 30. The total of $2,493,485.87 lacks only $6,514.13 of reaching the 2 1/2 million dollar mark to set an all time record. Local observers predict that the mark will be reached sometime next week.

collected and transmitted rapidly to the combat units of the air defense system. The faster this information is transmitted to the proper center the greater the value realized. Even minutes count, the officer told Sheriff Lykins.

The 4502nd AISS was created to provide the Air Defense Command with the physical capability of reaching downed enemy aircraft and crew members quickly in order to conduct and report immediate on-the-spot investigation and interrogations. However, the 4502nd AISS needs the help of local officials and citizens in all areas to do its wartime job. Local law enforcing officers and citizens can help by giving quick notification of downed enemy aircraft, or personnel and by placing downed enemy crewmen and documents under guard. They also can notify the FBI and other interested governmental units.

Quick reporting of any downed aircraft in any part of the country is desired by the Air Defense Command.

Sheriff Lykins and other Morgan officials promised to provide this information and service in case of any aircraft being downed in Morgan county.

BURLEY CO-OP IS FOR 1,800 POUND LIMIT FOR 1955

Votes Also For 75% Penalty For Excess Production of Burley

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9.—The Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association today recommended that a poundage limit be set on 1955 burley production.

The co-op, largest of the agencies handling the Government's price-support program on burley, suggested a maximum of 1,800 pounds an acre production plus continuation of the present acreage-allotment system.

In a third step, the co-op's directors came out for a higher penalty on excess burley production.

Co-op President John W. Jones said he feared any further acreage cut under existing law would result in little decrease in production, if any.

Committee To Get Plans

Co-op recommendations will be forwarded to a 16-man committee from the eight burley-producing states who are looking into production problems.

The 1954 crop, which produced an unexpected record yield, and unusually large reserve stocks combine to cause considerable concern in the industry.

The poundage plan had been heard recently at several county meetings in Central Kentucky.

Co-op directors favor a limit of 180 pounds on each one-tenth acre of burley.

Would Surpass Average Yield

[The proposed maximum doubtless would surpass the beltwide average yield, now figured at 1,828 pounds an acre on the basis of a 617,000,000-pound crop. (Despite two acreage cuts in a row, the new crop has reached a record gross of more than 696,000,000 pounds. Producers' or net sales will presumably exceed the last Government estimate of 617,000,000 and, if so, the average yield per acre will be revised upward.)

The directors also asked that the penalty for excess, or red-card, tobacco be increased from 50 to 75 percent of average burley price and that it be applied to the entire production of a grower who markets excess leaf. It also asked that red-card tobacco be identified before a sale and that no support price be applied to it.

The directors further suggested that no forfeiture of acreage allotment be required because a grower failed to produce tobacco. The resolutions were passed unanimously by the directors voting. Some, however, passed their votes because they are members of the committee which will consider the recommendations.

The committee is headed by John M. Berry, New Castle, an attorney and co-op vice president. It was organized last month after a meeting called by Clarence Miller of Washington, tobacco branch director for the commodity stabilization corporation, to study tobacco problems generally.

Poundage controls were in effect for a time in the late 30's. A Government official, speaking at the January meeting, said the poundage system produced no serious enforcement problems.

End of Tax Sought

Earlier today, the directors approved a resolutions that Congress permit a 50-cent federal tax on each 1,000 cigarettes to expire on April 1.

The co-op announced it had received 105,000,000 pounds of the 1954 burley crop under Government loan.

It was good quality tobacco, too. Executive secretary W. L. Stanton told co-op directors that the leaf put under loan averaged $53 a hundred. The beltwide average this season is $49.64.

The co-op administrators the Government's price support program in five of the eight burley states. Last year, all associates that handle the loan program received $102,000,000 pounds of burley.

Government tests prove:Your kitchen can be 8 to 16 degrees coolerif you cook Electrically

The cooling effect of melting 3620 lbs. of ice every 24 hours is yours when you switch from flame-type cooking to a modern electric range! Tests at the U. S. Government Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics reveal that there is actually that much difference in the amount of heat the two types of ranges throw into your kitchen! Here are test figures showing how much heat the two types use to do the same cooking job:

(Standard Heat Units)

- Heat units from the flame burning ranges 29,980
- Heat units from electric ranges 15,026
- Extra heat units from flame-type ranges 14,954

Flame ranges put nearly twice as much heat—excess heat—into your kitchen. You can be 8 to 16 degrees cooler with electric cooking!

Here's what makes electric cooking cooler

Pan is in direct contact with electric cooking unit. Practically all the heat goes into the food. Electric ranges have no pilot lights that add heat day and night. Nor does an electric cooking unit produce water vapor.

With flame burner, some heat goes into food; the rest goes into kitchen air. It takes about twice as much heat to do the same cooking job. And burning fuel produces water vapor, increasing humidity which adds to your discomfort.

- Low down payments
- Easy budget terms
- See your electric range dealer today!

* Reported in Technical Bulletin No. 1073, October 1953, Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. The British Thermal Unit (Btu) was used as the standard heat unit for these tests and both types of cooking were measured by the same standard.

TWO KINDS OF BURLEY CONTROL

From Lexington Herald

The various discussions of burley problems held in Lexington last week at a meeting of the burley belt's tobacco committee and at the tobacco session of the Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky pointed to the need for more effective means of controlling production, both as to quantity and quality.

Fortunately, machinery exists through which both control of quantity and quality may be realized. Provisions of the federal tobacco program can be amended to provide for controlling the quantity of burley more effectively, and the tobacco-breeding programs at the University's Experiment Station here and at experiment stations in other burley-producing states can be depended upon to develop breeds that possess desired smoking qualities. It depends upon growers themselves, of course, whether the machinery is to be used effectively.

Dr. W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist at the University, warned at the Farm and Home meeting that one of the biggest threats to the burley industry comes from the growing and "piling up" of stocks of burley tobacco that are not fit to go into the popular brands of cigarettes." Dr. Valleau whose success in developing disease resistant strains has saved burley growers from impending disaster a number of times, said that disease-resistant varieties and the use of fertilizer unfortunately has made it possible to grow tobacco year after year on the same land, resulting in the production of larger quantities of leaf of an quality. He urged growers "to go back to soil rotations and raise burley tobacco suitable to be put into cigarettes."

Dr. Valleau said that the growing popularity of king-size and filter-tip cigarettes allows for the use of the "harsher grades of burley" now being produced. It would not be correct to infer that the new type cigarettes have resulted from the growth of a harsher kind of burley. Should the new-type cigarettes become more popular, it would seem that the demand for better quality of burley may drop. Herein lies one of the most puzzling problems facing burley growers. Will the cigarette companies continue to prefer the better qualities of burley if inferior and harsher grades can be used just as well in the new types of cigarettes? It was apparent at times during the past marketing season that high quality leaf was being passed up for the poorer grades. Unfortunately, this is something which burley producers and the burley scientists can not control.

A NOTEWORTHY BIRTHDAY

We salute the Boy Scouts of America on its 45th birthday, now being observed during Boy Scout Week Feb. 6-12.

Since its founding in 1910 the organization has enriched the lives of over 22,750,000 boys and adult leaders. Truly Scouting represents a living cross section of American life.

Boys of every race, religion and economic background are attracted to Scouting. Today we find 2,700,000 boys in its ranks. Add to that impressive figure the 960,000 adults of good character who give generously of their time and talents to serve as leaders of units, Merit Badge Counselors and in many other capacities. There is hardly an American family that has not felt its influence.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, the Chief Scout Executive, a leader in the organization since 1913, feels that it is of vital importance to train the boys of today to be ready for positions of leadership as they grow to manhood.

"Strong character, participating citizenship and physical fitness," he says, "are needs of our boys and young men who are served by the program of Scouting in cooperation with the home, the school, the church, and all other community institutions actively interested in training our future citizens."

Scouting's purpose, stated in the Federal Charter granted by Congress in 1916, is to promote the "ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Every member of the Nation's 95,000 Scouting units is indeed "having some kind of experience that is adding to his equipment to meet the problems of adult life."

It is that training that we heartily endorse on this noteworthy birthday.

GIBSON'S PEACE BOND EXTENDED

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9—A peace bond ordering Corbit Gibson, 31-year-old Morgan county under indictment for attempted murder, to keep the peace toward his ex-wife yesterday was continued in effect for one year.

Gibson was indicted by the January grand jury on a charge he attempted to kill his divorced wife, Mrs. Phyllis Jean Gibson, by placing a homemade bomb in a mailbox Dec. 16 at the Royster Road home where she was staying.

The bomb exploded, decapitating the two dogs, while Mrs. Gibson was inside the house talking to two county detectives. She obtained the peace warrant the same day.

After a brief hearing yesterday, Circuit Judge Joseph J. Bradley continued the $5,000 bond, first placed in Magistrate Riggs Sullivan's court.

Gibson, who could not post the bond, was ordered jailed for 90 days in default of bond. He is to receive credit for the time he has served since the warrant was heard in Sullivan's court.

Mrs. Gibson, 24-year-old mother of two children, testified that Gibson has threatened on more than one occasion to take her life and had attempted to stab her last September at the Parkette Drive-In, where she was working as a waitress.

The couple was divorced in November.

Gibson denied that he had threatened his ex-wife or that he had attempted to kill her.

Judge Bradley reduced from $5,000 to $2,000 Gibson's bond on the attempted murder charge.

BURLEY INCOME TO NET $1,136,000.00 IN ELLIOTT COUNTY

SANDY HOOK, Ky., Feb. 8—Elliott county's burley tobacco growers have received an average of $55.83 per hundred for their 1954 crop according to sales memo cards mailed back to the county ASC office here this far.

Sales memo cards mailed back thus far cover 381,396 pounds for which the growers received $212,940. Milt Fraley, manager of the Elliott county ASC office, reported Monday. This is an average of $55.83 per hundredweight.

Elliott farmers this year produced burley on a total of 1,305 acres, and county farm agency directors estimate the average production per acre for the crop is 1,800 pounds. Thus, it is estimated Elliott produced a total of 2,349,000 pounds of burley in 1954.

An average price of $55.83 per hundred would mean that Elliott county farmers received a total of $1,136,000 for the 1954 crop of burley.

Mr. Fraley said the estimated production of 1,800 pounds per acre was figured low, and that the actual production may be higher than the 2,349,000 pound estimate.

and am just waiting for the call and am only asking to remain until my usefulness to others is finished.

Well, I do enjoy very much your letters in the Licking Valley Courier. It is just like a letter from home. You always give us some church news.

I am still holding my membership with the Enterprise Association and wish I could attend it one time more. I haven't been able to get a minute of the last Association.

If my sister, Jeston Gevedon, lives through the winter and I am still able, I want to visit her soon as the winter is over. And if I do, I am going to write you to meet me over there.

Guess I shall close out for this time by asking the good Lord to bless you and yours. Give my love and regards to your friends.

CITIZENS WANT DOGS INOCULATED, IS VIEW

To The Courier:

I read, "4 Cows Die of Hydrophobia," but not one word about the dogs that bit those cows. It is a fact that cows do not get rabies of themselves but must get it from dogs, cats, and foxes. Rumors are spread all over the county that the rabid dogs had been inoculated last summer. Others say that water was substituted for the "shots" that people paid for. If there is any truth to these rumors, shouldn't our health department investigate? Shouldn't our county paper help the public to see that our dogs should be treated against rabies? I do believe that 90 percent of our citizens are anxious to have their dogs treated and if we have no competent person, can we not get a man to come from Louisville as did one county near here? Several years ago, Woodsbend citizens paid for the medicine and Clay Ratliff donated his time to vaccinate our dogs. Doesn't this prove that most people do not have to be forced to treat their dogs? For the sake of our children, our livestock, and our dogs, let's make the public conscious of this need!

EVE MAY

The Courier—

I see in the January issue of The Courier your article about the log rolling on the head of White Oak and it thrilled me that I read it five or six times. Mr. Whitt, I see you said you were a boy but didn't say how old a boy you were. I happened to know you, Mr. Editor, and know about your age by my own.

I wish you would get more of the good old happenings in your paper for they are interesting to read. I have been away from Morgan forty-eight years and I still remember my old friends back there.

I was talking to Irvin Dennis not long ago in Topeka, Kansas. The Davis boys, Frank, Albert and Wash live at Merimar, Okla. The last time I knew of them, some of them were running a cotton gin.

I receive the Courier every Monday and it is like getting a letter from home. I read until I almost wear it out. It gives so much good news.

MORGAN LOSES IN N.E. KY. TOURNAMENT

The Morgan Blue Devils, after winning the opening round game in the N.E.K.C. tournament with McKell were beaten in their second round game by a classy Greenup five 76-64 Friday night.

The Devils suffered their second tournament loss just a night later by a 72-59 margin to Catlettsburg in the consolation affair.

Greenup proceeded to win the meet defeating Russell 79-58 in the finals Saturday evening.

Forward Ken Hamilton paced the Blue Devils in their three-game appearance, pouring through 61 corners for an average of 21.6 per contest.

Despite their loss in the conference tournament, the Devils still have an excellent chance of winning the league championship based on season standings.

Morgan recorded its fourth straight conference triumph without a loss here Tuesday night, outscoring the Russell Red Devils by 60-20.

In order to post a perfect conference record the Blue Devils would have to win their remaining three league frays against Louisa, McKell and Catlettsburg.

The Devils should not have too much trouble with either Louisa or McKell as they already own easy victories over both quints.

The Catlettsburg affair could be the clincher for Morgan. The game is scheduled to be played here Feb. 25 and should be one of the season's best.

The Russell victory ran Morgan's won and loss record to a 7-11 mark.

Jerry Franklin paced the Morgan lads over the Red Devils with a 22 point performance.

Morgan travels to Oil Springs Friday night for a game that will be a prelude to this year's 60th District opener. These same two teams meet in the opening round of this year's District eliminations. The Devils bested the Wildcats in their first meeting 56-46 on the Morgan floor.

Observer 95th Birthday In Florida Recently

Mrs. L. Y. Redwine made the 95th birthday of her mother, Mrs. B. F. Carter, the occasion for an open house Tuesday afternoon at her home 2109 Royal Palm Ave., Fort Myers, Fla.

With gracious, animated charm that belied the many active years of her life, Mrs. Carter greeted her guests in a bower of flowers that had been sent to her by her friends. She wore a smart, gracefully lined dress of amethyst and cream with amethyst jewels and two orchids at her shoulder—one the gift of Mrs. C. B. Chadwick and the other of Mrs. A. W. Allen.

With the personal warmth and cordiality that she obviously inherited from her mother, Mrs. Redwine received at the door, assisted by Mrs. W. L. Patterson, a close friend, who also kept the birthday book.

Mrs. Redwine wore dark plum colored taffeta and Mrs. Patterson wore a black lace dress and pink carnation corsage. Friends assisted in serving at the richly appointed table in the candle-lit dining room. The frozen punch, a delicious combination of fruit juices and whipped cream, and the beautifully iced birthday cakes kept to the party color—amethyst, the favorite of the honor guest and the color of the dress in which Mrs. Carter was married to Dr. Carter in Maysville, Ky. in 1878.

Guests called from two o'clock in the afternoon until late evening and Mrs. Carter chatted interestingly with them, not only of her memories, which include the day the news of the assassination of President Lincoln was given, but of current events.

She gave two readings, "In The Garden" and "Dinnertime" both by Edgar Guest.

Mrs. Carter is a direct descendant of John Filson who made the first map and wrote the history of Kentucky. She has 6 great grandchildren and 9 great great grandchildren.

SCHOOL NEWS

Cannel City School

When Bernard E. Whitt visited the school at Cannel City Thursday, members of the home ec class in sewing were all busy and doing a good job. They are much in need of an electric stove which will probably soon be installed by one of the companies.

George Lacy had a good class in 8th grade mathematics, and Mrs. Estill Steele had a study hall in the library. The school has a very good library.

The fourth grade was filled to capacity. The following pupils had perfect attendance: Terry Lacy, Jackie Patrick, Gary Allen, Linda Wilson and Russell Vance.

Mr. Whitt told some stories and next day he received the following letters which he appreciates:

Our class wants to write you to thank you for coming and visiting us. The class all enjoyed your stories you tell us. The class likes the best about the boy who became a captain. The poem you wrote on the blackboard best of all. The kids said they want to thank you for putting their names in the paper. The class wants you to come back again and tell more stories to us. We wish you could come back every day because you are a good story teller.—Sandy Gevedon.

I will write you a letter telling you that I thank you for story and poem and I hope very much that you will come and visit us again. I thank you very much for putting my name in the newspaper.—Linda Wilson.

We enjoyed the story and poem very much. Some of the boys and girls have learned the poem. We found that Sandra Gevedon and Jimmy Morris have not missed a day of school. We have studied about saloons in geography. We are writing letters in English. We hope you will come back again and tell us another story.—The Fourth Grade, written by Sharon Deborde.

State FFA Camp at Hardinsburg Nearly Finished

This photo shows the fireplace in the new dining hall of the State FFA Leadership Training Center at Hardinsburg. At left is Albert Dorsey, vo-ag teacher at Ezel who is a member of the camp planning committee, and at right is Billy Gordon Nickell, a Kentucky Farmer and member of the Ezel FFA chapter.

Morgan countians contributed $1,007.00 last year to oversubscribe the county's share of the cost of the new Future Farmers of America Leadership Training Center which is being built at Hardinsburg.

Albert Dorsey, vo-ag teacher at Ezel school who is a member of the planning committee that supervised building the camp, recently visited the camp and reports construction work is nearing completion. He says the new camp will be ready for use in time for the opening of the summer leadership training period.

The new camp will cost approximately a half million dollars and will accommodate 300 FFA boys a week during the summer training period.

The dining hall is completed except for painting and installing interior equipment. It will require about $15,000 for equipment to make the dining hall equal to any high school lunch room in the state. The administration building also is completed in about the same degree.

When these two buildings are finished there will remain to be constructed only the classroom buildings.

Twenty cabins already have been built that will accommodate 16 boys each.

The dining hall shown in the photo has two fireplaces built of Bedford stone and it will seat 256 diners.

Mr. Dorsey, after inspecting the camp Jan. 29, said, "I feel we have received a dollar's worth of construction for every dollar spent. In my estimation it is as good a job of building as I have ever witnessed. In addition to expressing my appreciation to the Morgan county who contributed to the fund to build the new FFA camp, I want to express my appreciation to M. M. Botto for the fine job he has done in supervising construction and improvements."

Morgan county's FFA chapters at Ezel and West Liberty send an average of 25 or 30 boys to the State camp each year.

New Bangs Disease Testing Program Is Now In Effect Here

The new cattle Brucellosis accelerated program is now in effect in Kentucky, Morgan County Agricultural Agent Carl W. Sinclair announced today.

The testing will be carried on by a graduate, accredited veterinarian under supervision of State and Federal forces.

Indemnities for reactors will be paid a maximum of $25 on grade animals and up to $50 on purebred animals with registration papers. This money is in addition to what the animals will bring for slaughter purposes. All veterinary expenses will be paid by the Agricultural Research Service. The state does not match this money.

The agent has contacted a graduate veterinarian and agreements will be received soon.

Farmers should come to the county agricultural agents office and indicate if they want their cattle tested and the number of animals they have. Because of the low price paid for each animal, the veterinarian can not stop at every farm. Farmers having two or three cows can bring them to a central place in their area. If brought in trucks the animals would not have to be unloaded.

All farmers who want to participate in this program to get rid of Bang's in cattle are urged to sign up at the county agent's office.

Bang's disease can go through an entire herd. Humans can contract the disease by handling cattle at calving time. Undulant fever, a serious disease of humans is transmitted through the raw milk of infected animals.

It is estimated that 40 percent of the farmers in Greenup county grew tobacco in excess of their allotments.

Only Car at its Price*...

So Smart! So Big! So Powerful!

*You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars!

Whatever you want most in a car—beauty, size or performance—you get it in extra measure in a Pontiac. In fact, when you choose Pontiac the decision comes very easily—because Pontiac alone, at its price, gives you everything!

For example, take Pontiac's distinctive smartness. Certainly there is no question on this point. Pontiac is the one car that stands apart from all the others.

If it's size and big-car sure-footedness you want—Pontiac's your car! Pontiac's long wheelbase—124 inches in the Star

Chief, shown here, and 122 inches in the 860 and 870 series—is the plus wheelbase that provides the roominess, the comfort, the satisfying road-hugging security that only a big car can supply.

As for performance—once you get behind the wheel you have all the proof you need that Pontiac is way ahead in this department, too. Pontiac's spectacular performance starts with the most modern engine of all—the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8—specifically designed for Pontiac's all-new chassis to give you balanced performance. That means smooth, eager getaway in traffic; power to spare on the open road; and even more of Pontiac's traditional economy, dependability and long life.

All this adds up to a wonderful car and—with Pontiac's remarkably low price tag—a very wonderful buy. Come in soon and talk dollars and cents. If you're in the market for any new car, you'll discover you can easily afford all the pride and pleasure of a big, powerful, luxury-loaded Pontiac.

OBITUARY

HANEY

David N. Haney was born Nov. 19, 1869 in Morgan county, the son of John and Elizabeth Haney. In 1896 he was united in marriage to Miss Mollie Katherine Haney of Morehead.

To this union were born seven children, all of whom survive. In his early married life he was converted to Christ and became a member of the Malone Baptist church. He was a deacon in this church until the time of his death. The work of the church and of the gospel always held an important place in his life and his activities. His testimony will be greatly missed in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney spent all their married life in this section of Morgan county. Mrs. Haney preceded her husband in death three years ago.

He had been in failing health for the last three years, and had not been away from his bed for the last nine months. His homecoming did not come as a surprise to his family but was nevertheless a great shock.

He leaves to mourn his passing four sons, Clyde, of Portsmouth, Ohio, Homer of West Liberty, Ray of Malone, and Shirley of Flemingsburg; three daughters, Mrs. Miles Henry Ferguson of Cannel City, Mrs. Oliver Powell of Winchester, and Jewell of Malone. He also leaves eighteen grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his oldest sister, Mrs. Jim McClure of Grassy Creek.

Funeral was conducted at the Malone Baptist church Jan. 28 at 1:30 p.m. Rev. Arthur Gathman of Frenchburg and Rev. John Heykoop of Grassy Creek officiated, with songs by the Benton Trio of Cannel City. Interment was in the family cemetery under direction of the West Liberty Funeral Home.

STACY

Laura Alice Ferguson Stacy, daughter of the late John C. Ferguson and Nancy Caroline Nickell Ferguson, was born on Grassy Creek, Ky., on July 28, 1883. She was stricken with sugar diabetes seven years ago. She gradually grew worse until the amputation of two of her fingers became necessary. She was hospitalized in a Lexington hospital, then afterward took insulin shot daily. During her last illness she was taken to Jane Cook Hospital, Frenchburg, where she passed away on Feb. 2 at 8:30 p.m.

She was married to Joe Millard Stacy in 1899. To them were born four daughters and one son: Mrs. Mort Peyton and Mrs. Daisy Carter, both of Grassy Creek, Chalmers Stacy, Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Iris Peyton, Winchester, Mrs. Andy Gevedon, North Vernon, Indiana.

She has always been a resident of Grassy Creek and an industrious and sociable person. She was an affectionate mother and wife and was perhaps the best cook of our neighborhood.

She was converted and baptized in 1905 and took membership with the Enterprise Baptist church at Centerville. She has often testified and has attended church during her illness.

Besides her husband and children, she is survived by four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Martha Risner of Burkhart, Mrs. Dorothy Cole of Jeffersonville, Mrs. Dora Jones of Greaser, Mrs. Maud Ross of Jeffersonville, and Joe Frank Ferguson, of Grassy, also 22 grandchildren and 18 grandchildren.

Funeral was conducted at the Grassy Lick church Feb. 5 at 10 a.m. with Rev. Russell Brown, Rev. Joe Blevins, officiating. Interment was in the Grassy Lick cemetery in charge of the West Liberty Funeral Home. The large attendance and the profuse floral offering, expressed the highest sentiment of esteem.

LEWIS

Mrs. Mollie Caskey Lewis, the daughter of Henry and Kathryn Fannin Caskey, was born Sept. 23, 1874, died Jan. 29, 1955, age 80 years, four months and six days.

In 1888 she was united in marriage to Tom Caskey. To this union was born one daughter, Bessie Caskey Mays, who survives.

In 1910 she was married to Henry M. Fannin, who died April 17, 1916. In March 1917 she was married to Frank Lewis who died May 1, 1948.

She joined the church at an early age and lived a devoted Christian life. She is also survived by one sister, Hannah Hasty of Hamilton, Ohio; three grandchildren, Elmer and Elza Mays and Lena Mann, four great-grandchildren, Imogene, Russell, Gail and Janice Mays, all of Ebon, and a host of friends.

Funeral was conducted Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the home with Rev. Glenn Lawson of Ezel and Rev. Grover Craft of Korea officiating. Burial was in the family cemetery near the home with Peiter Funeral Home in charge.

MINNIX

Mrs. Thelma May Minnix, the daughter of the late Frank C. May and Lillie Allen May, was born at White Oak, Kentucky on Feb. 22, 1907, and departed this life Jan. 31, 1955. She was united in marriage June 28, 1928, to Henry Minnix.

She is survived by her husband and daughters, Mrs. William E. Litton of Lexington and Nadine Minnix of White Oak; also three sisters and one brother, Mrs. R. M. Adkins, Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Leonard Salyer and Mrs. Regina Williams and Bert D. May, all of White Oak, and many other relatives and friends.

She has been a member of the White Oak Christian church for 31 years. She has been a loving wife, devoted mother and was loved by everyone.

Funeral was conducted at the White Oak Christian church Feb. 2 at 10 p.m. by the Rev. Harlan Murphy and Charles Frederick, followed by interment in the Allen cemetery at White Oak under direction of Potter Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS
We the family wish to thank each and everyone who helped in any way during the sickness and death of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Lewis. We especially thank Rev. Glen Lawson and Grover Craft for their consoling words, Potter Funeral Home for their wonderful service, the ones who gave flowers, also the neighbors and friends who were so good to us all. May the Lord bless each and every one of you.—Mr. and Mrs. George Mays and Family.

EXPRESS THANKS
Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Meyers would like to express their thanks to everyone for their thoughtfulness, kindness and consideration and expressions of interest in their illness. Rev. Meyers, pastor of the local Methodist church, is convalescing from an operation at Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, and expects to return to West Liberty Sunday. He asks the prayers of everyone on behalf of the Meyers, that she may be restored to active health. Mrs. Meyers, also a patient in the hospital, has been ill since she suffered a stroke more than two months ago.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our deepest thanks and gratitude to everyone who helped out in any way during the death of our wife and mother, Laura Stacy. Especially do we thank the West Liberty Funeral Home, the ministers, Rev. Russell Brown, Rev. Joe Blevins, Rev. Ferguson-Hutchinson

Rev. A. C. Bradley solemnized the rites of matrimony last Saturday at Relief between Charley Ferguson and Miss Thelma Hutchinson. The groom is the son of Elder and Mrs. Roy Hutchinson, former residents of Crockett, now residents of Ohio. A bountiful wedding supper was enjoyed by a number of intimate friends.

John Bolin has moved from Mrs. Dorsey Keeton's place to Long Branch between Gritterville and West Liberty.

Elder J. K. Patrick preached at Union church Saturday and Sunday and was the overnight guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Piqua, Ohio, were recent visitors here. Mr. Bradley has had some additional electric lights to his house and Mr. Smith has done extensive repair on his house, which they will move to the coming spring.

I had the good pleasure of receiving a nice letter from Elder C. F. Testerman of Foster, Ohio, which I am enclosing, hoping you can find space for publication, believing that his many friends will enjoy reading it.

Mrs. Henry Gillum was operated on in a Paintsville hospital one day last week.

Barren county homemakers contributed more than $570 toward the support of the bookmobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannoy Move to Farm After 30 Years in Industry

How Mr. and Mrs. Orison Cannoy of Menifee county are handling a farm they bought in 1952 after working 30 years in industry is told by Wilmer Browning, area agent in the Farm and Home Development Program of the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

On the 60-acre farm, the Cannoy in 1952 had 1.1 acres of tobacco that produced 2,000 pounds an acre, eight acres of corn that made 50 bushels an acre, five acres of meadow that turned off a ton of hay an acre, and 21 acres of pasture that carried one animal per four acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannoy entered the Farm and Home Development Program in 1953, with the assistance of UK County Agent Wallace Coffey. That year their tobacco sold for $65.35 a hundred instead of $50, which it brought in 1952.

Plans call for 2.4 acres of tobacco yielding a ton an acre, corn that makes 75 bushels an acre instead of 50, and at least six cows and calves. Fescue and ladino clover have been used to double the carrying capacity of the pasture.

Improvements in the Cannoy house include running water, sink, electric stove and refrigerator, ceiling of rooms, sanding floors, and papering and painting. A back porch and bathroom have been added and attic refinished.

Other improvements include remodeling of tobacco barn and a new driveway.

Mrs. Cannoy is the former Rella Gevedon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gevedon of Grassy Creek.

ASK THE MAN TO OPEN THE HOOD!
Ask: "Does this truck have a modern Short Stroke V-8 engine?"

HOW TO TELL if it's a short-stroke engine, check the printed specifications! The "stroke" is always as short as, or shorter than the "bore."

THIS YEAR the truck industry is beginning to follow Ford's lead to modern short-stroke V-8's. They last longer—prolong ring life up to 53%! Save up to one gallon of gas in seven! But ONLY FORD has four V-8's... one for every size truck in a full line... available right now!

Modern short-stroke V-8's are beginning to take over in trucks—just as they've already done in passenger cars. So, if today you buy a truck with anything less than a modern short-stroke engine, what will happen to its ultimate trade-in value? Play it safe! Go modern! Go Short Stroke! Go Ford!

HUNTING — FISHING

John Davis of Ezel wrote Robt. Nickell a card that he caught a 22-pound fish last week. Walter Nickell was in town Wednesday and said he would consider Robt. a straight man as far as fishing is concerned. It is, however, a well known fact that John Davis is in Bradenton, Florida, and spends all his time fishing. It would, therefore, be reasonable to believe that he caught a fish of the size wrote.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1— New Federal Tax Law May Save You Money

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The "Ides of March" will no longer hold any terror for the average taxpayer, but the new tax deadline of April 15 can be just as alarming if you don't start early to prepare your federal income tax return.

To help you get started this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. Use these articles, together with the instructions that come with your federal income tax forms, to guide you in making out your return.

Most taxpayers report their income for the calendar year on a cash basis, and the new rules are explained here as they apply to these typical taxpayers. Anyone who uses a different fiscal year or reports on an accrual basis should check the official instructions to see how he is affected.

Completely Revised Tax Rules

Last August the Internal Revenue Code was completely overhauled by Congress and thousands of changes were made affecting taxpayers. It is estimated that every year a million taxpayers overpay their income taxes by a total of more than $100,000,000. More millions of taxpayers pay less than is due, making them liable for assessments, interest and possible penalties.

With the many changes of the new law there is even greater danger of mistakes this year unless you read the instructions and prepare your tax return with great care.

This is a good reason for starting long before April 15. Here's another:

You May Get a Refund

If you find that more tax has been withheld from your wages than you actually owe, you will be entitled to a refund of the difference. The sooner you file your return, the sooner you are likely to get your refund.

What are the chances of a refund? Well, your tax will probably be less because of the reduction of approximately 10% in tax rates since last year, but you have been getting the advantage of this reduction all through the year in the form of reduced withholdings from your pay.

Many newly authorized deductions, however, may cut down your tax bill below the amount that has been withheld, thus entitling you to a refund.

New Savings This Year

Here are some of the changes, to be discussed in later articles, which may cut your tax this year:

1. More single persons are entitled to "head-of-household" status.

2. Medical expenses are deductible to a greater extent.

3. Certain health and accident benefits are not counted as income.

4. The $600 exemption applies to various dependents not previously eligible.

5. A special deduction of as much as $600 for child care is now available in some cases to working wives, widowed and divorced persons.

6. Tax may be reduced by new credits for dividends and retirement income.

7. Salesmen and other employees who travel may benefit from new rules on expense deductions.

8. New provisions may benefit anyone who bought or sold a home in 1954.

9. Farmers get new deductions for soil and water conservation expense.

10. Businesses are helped by liberalized depreciation rules and other changes.

Additional Information

Be sure to read the official instructions. You can also get help from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult only qualified advisors.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 6.—Fred B. Redwine, assistant Commonwealth's attorney here, yesterday became the first candidate to announce for the Democratic nomination for attorney general in the August 6 primary.

Redwine said he would run "strictly as an independent candidate, aligned with no other candidate for a state-wide office or with any faction of the Democratic Party."

The 42-year-old, 6 feet-4 inch, 275-pound native of Sandy Hook, Elliott county, said he would file his candidate's papers with the secretary of state in Frankfort tomorrow.

Redwine has served as an assistant to Commonwealth's Attorney A. Scott Hamilton and as secretary of the Jefferson County grand jury since 1952.

He is an honor graduate of the University of Kentucky Law School and has practiced law since 1946. He is associated in the private practice of law here with the firm of Hensley & Logan.

In 1949 Redwine became secretary of the Kentucky Workmen's Compensation Board, serving for three years.

Redwine has been active in the Young Democratic clubs in Kentucky. He is a precinct committeeman and a precinct captain in the Democratic organization here.

He is a member of the Louisville and Kentucky Bar associations and of various legal fraternities. He is active in the Macon Lodge, a member of Crescent Hill Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Redwine, the former True Culbertson of Pikeville, live at 307 Hillcrest Avenue. Redwine's father, V. H. Redwine, is county attorney of Elliott county.

Leaf Warehouse In Morehead Proposed

(Rowan County News)

There has been some recent local discussion of the formation of a corporation to build one or two tobacco auction warehouses in Morehead. Those weighing the idea conjecture there would be a good chance to get most of the leaf from Rowan and a large part of that grown in neighboring Carter, Morgan and Elliott counties, most of which passes through Morehead on its way to market.

We roughly estimate these four counties market about 12 million pounds a year, mostly by so-called "small" growers. Mountain tobacco is in more demand this year than the bluegrass leaf because of its lower nicotine content.

Hill farmers followed advice of county agents while the big producers to the west continued with the better looking and heavier weighing varieties. It is noticed able that even "frog eye" mountain leaf is snapped up by buyers for the American Tobacco Company, Liggett and Myers, R. J. Reynolds and others while leaf that looks better goes to the pool.

A tobacco warehouse—or two or more warehouses—for Morehead would be a fine thing . . . bringing dollars to our community.

However, we had the opportunity to recently converse with some people at Flemingsburg who contemplated last year a new warehouse at Maysville and later announced they would build one at Flemingsburg. We are hopeful that Morehead could have tobacco auctions, but we must express considerable doubt and suggest to those who would invest that they investigate thoroughly.

There are many other county seats in Kentucky, including some in the heavier producing bluegrass counties, that have toyed with the idea for seasonal years.

A LOT ABOUT LINCOLN

Since the day after Lincoln's death the outpouring of words about him has never ceased. Now there are some 6000 Lincoln books and pamphlets, states Greer Williams in the current Reader's Digest. Biographies have been written in German, Spanish, Norwegian and Japanese. The little book in which Lincoln as a boy wrote, "Abraham Lincoln, his book and pen, he will be good but God knows when," brought $3600 at a New York City auction in 1952. A copy of the 266-word Gettysburg Address—one of five which exist in Lincoln's handwriting—sold for $150,000. Hoaxes have given much trouble to truth-seekers about Lincoln. One dealer has turned down enough "Lincoln hair" to stuff a sofa.

GIVES REPORT ON SOCIAL SECURITY FOR THE FARMER

The new executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau is John W. Koon. Originally from Caldwell county, Koon has been with the Farm Bureau since 1949 as special representative. He was formerly with the State Department of Education. He succeeds J. E. Stanford, who was appointed public relations director for the Farm Bureau.

Senior Class Sponsor Day at Morehead Set

MOREHEAD, Ky., Feb. 5. — One hundred fifty high schools in 48 Kentucky counties, including Elliott and Morgan, have been invited to send representatives to Morehead State College's first Senior Class Sponsors Conference February 17, it was announced by President Adron Doran.

Purpose of the conference, possibly the first of its kind ever held, is to bring together representatives of the college and those high-school teachers who are directly concerned with guidance of students about to graduate from high school.

WHAT MAKES FARMING BUZZ

I marvel at machinery that makes farming buzz along. Oh, I don't mean the tractor-plow.

With motor power so strong. Nor binder, cutter, grinder, pump.

Or windmill's spinning wheel. The mysteries that I speak about. Are far from those of steel.

The fresh bright egg Miss Plymouth Rock Denotes with cackling cry: The pure sweet milk that Jersey gives.

From meadows green, close by. The bits of grain sowed in the soil.

Now rustling in the wind; Yes, God it is who runs this show.

Beyond a mortal's hand. And He it is who gives all life. Too deep to understand.

—Claude Stickelman

Farm people of Morgan county should be assured that the Ashland Social Security office is prepared and qualified to serve them with complete information about the new change in the U. S. Social Security law.

This was a statement made by County Agent C. W. Sinclair. The county agent has had a representative of the Ashland office to attend a meeting to explain the program in full to the farmers.

He also pointed out that the 1954 amendments to the Social Security law give insurance protection to both farm operators and farm workers. The costs are low and the benefits are great, he said.

Beginning January 1, 1955, persons who farm for themselves will be included in Social Security if they make a net profit of as much as $400 a year from their farming operations. Farm workers are included if they are paid cash wages of $100 a year or more from any one farmer.

The first step the farmer should take, the county agent explained, is to get a Social Security card if he doesn't already have one. The next thing they should do, he said, is to learn about the valuable protection they will have for himself and family.

A farm operator will report his own earnings at the end of each year at the time he files his income tax return.

Person farming for himself will pay a Social Security contribution of 3% on his net yearly earnings.

A farm worker's share of the Social Security withheld by his employer (who taxes 2% of his wages) will be matched by the farmer.

Retirement benefits from Social Security range from $30.00 to $108 per month and the farmer's wife will receive one-half the amount of the farmer when she becomes 65 years of age. The benefits for dependents of deceased person may go much higher.

To be eligible for these payments from workers and operators must be in Social Security for at least a year and a half. As time goes by more coverage will be required under the law, depending on either the individual's date of death or when he reaches the age of 65.

Since we will pay 3% on the net profit, it would seem wise for each farmer to keep a good farm record for 1955 and the year's you will pay the social security.

The interior of the church at Tinsley, Ky., was decorated in accordance with color principals learned by Bell county homemakers in their lessons on color selection.

Olive Hill Girl Wins Soil Essay Contest

BETTY LOU BURTON
Soil Conservation Essay Contest winner

A 14-year-old Olive Hill high school freshman has been named state winner in the eleventh annual Soil Conservation Essay contest.

Miss Betty Lou Burton of Olive Hill, will receive a $100 U. S. Savings Bond for her entry "How Water Conservation Benefits My Community." Her essay was considered best from more than 13,000 entries from 115 Soil Conservation Districts. Contest prizes totaled $3,225.

Announcement of the winners was made by Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times, WHAS and WHAS-TV. Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and A. Threlkeld, the president of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

In addition to their bond prizes, the three top winners will be the guests of honor at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville Feb. 12. Here they will meet with other winners.

Miss Burton, the grand prize-winner, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Burton. She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America Club and won first place in her county in the Cancer Essay Contest in 1953 and 1954. She was runner-up in Carter County in the Soil Conservation Essay contest last year.

She points out that proper water conservation helps prevent floods, avoid water pollution, provide water power, replenish or conserve moisture and plant nutrients and gives watershed protection.

FORMOSA VITAL IN DEFENSE OF A FREE WORLD

By EARLE C. CLEMENTS
Senator From Kentucky

I was among those invited to the White House on Saturday, January 29, when the President signed the Formosa Resolution announcing to the world congressional recognition of the powers given the President by the Constitution to deal with situations such as the one now existing in the Far East.

As the President often does, he used several pens in signing the measure, and he presented me with one of these. I will keep it here in the office in Washington as a memento of an historic occasion, which it is hoped will bring us one step nearer the goal we all seek—world peace.

There is one phase of the Formosa question which I do not feel has received as much public consideration as it deserves. This is the position of Formosa in the Pacific defenses of the free world. If you study a map of the Pacific Ocean and draw a line from the top, starting with the Aleutian Islands and continuing down through Japan, Okinawa, Formosa, the Philippines, and Australia, you will see that this is a natural defense line facing the Communists on the mainland of Asia. Formosa is the center of the line.

A Communist break-through on Formosa and the loss of the island might be compared to a football team playing without a center. Such a break-through could force us to make our goal line stand on the California coast.

Tobacco Meeting A Healthy Activity

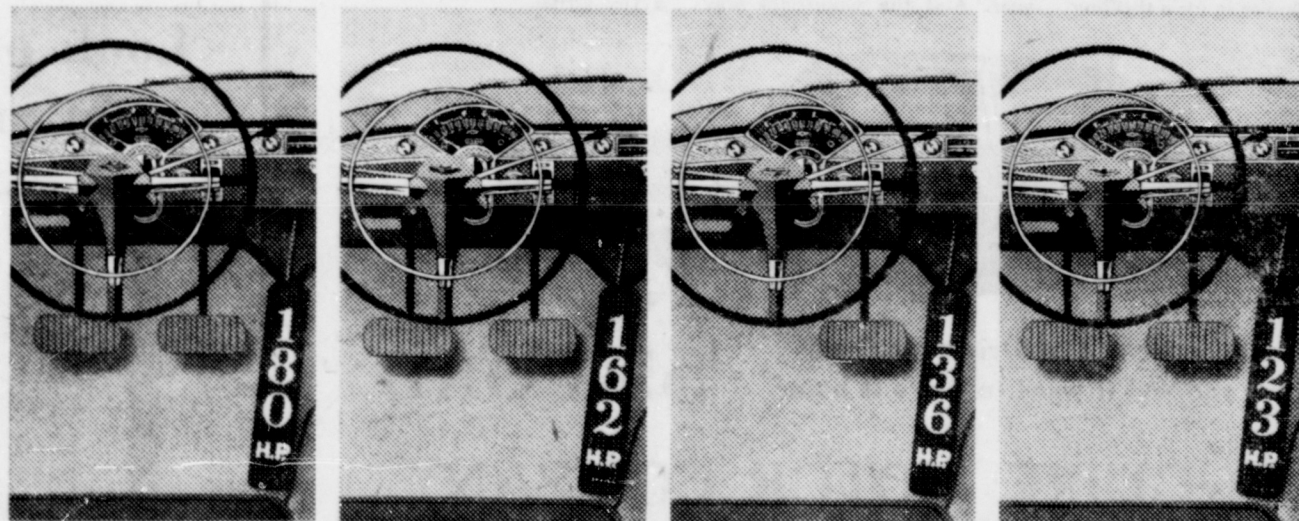

The meeting of the special committee, chairmanned by John M. Berry of Newcastle, and composed of members of the burley tobacco industry from the eight principal producing states, held last week in Lexington was, in my view, an extremely sound and healthy activity.

The meeting is one in a series being held to discuss ways and means of bringing the production of burley tobacco in line with its consumption. During the 1954 marketing year, approximately 675 million pounds of burley tobacco were marketed by growers, as compared with a production of 564 million pounds in 1953 and despite an average 8 percent reduction in the 1954 acreage allotments. This is the fourth straight year that production has exceeded consumption by more than 50 million pounds.

One of the reasons for the strength of the tobacco program has been the extreme interest and cooperation shown by those in the industry. They have faced up to the problems of compliance and overproduction, and when it

PARITY RATIO DROPS TO 86

The index of Prices received by farmers declined 5 points (2 percent) during the month ending December 15, the Crop Reporting Board announced. Lower prices received for hogs, lettuce, cotton, milk and eggs were primarily responsible for the decline. Price increase for feed grains, hay, sweetpotatoes, butterfat, and calves only partially offset these reductions. Compared with December 1953, prices for crops averaged slightly higher with the All Crops Index up 1 percent. The Livestock and Livestock Products Index, however, was 12 percent lower, and the All Farm Products Index 6 percent lower. The Parity Index (Prices paid for commodities, Interest, Taxes, and Wage Rates) remained at 279 during the month ended December 15, less than 1 percent higher than a year earlier. Retail prices of production items averaged slightly lower, but prices of family living items averaged the same as in November. With farm product prices down and the Parity Index steady, the Parity Ratio dropped to 86, the lowest since March 1941.

WALKER NAMED IN INDICTMENT AS COURT OPENS

Charged With Murder Of Charles Johnson Near Gimlet Jan. 29th

SANDY HOOK, Ky., Feb. 8.—The Elliott county grand jury today (Tuesday) returned two indictments against Ward Walker of Sinking Creek, Carter county, charging him in one with wilful murder and in another with shooting and wounding with intent to kill.

Walker is charged with fatally shooting Charles Johnson, 42, of Gimlet, and wounding Arlie Sparks, also of Gimlet, during a drinking party near the Carter county line near Gimlet Jan. 29. Walker gave himself up the next day and Sheriff D. A. Lewis, Jr., said Walker admitted killing Johnson and wounding Sparks in the arm. The Sheriff quoted Walker as saying he had argued with Sparks and meant to kill him, not Johnson. Walker told the Sheriff that Sparks was armed and that he shot him in self defense. Sparks said there had been no argument.

February term of Elliott circuit court was convened Monday with Circuit Judge John A. Keck presiding and Commonwealth Attorney W. Major Gardner and County Attorney V. H. Redwine representing the Commonwealth.

James Green was named foreman of the grand jury. Walter Simmons and Estill Simmons of near Newfoundland were fined $25 each at the opening day's session on charges of assault and battery against State Patrolman Shannon Corman and Deputy Sheriff Elwood Whitt when the officers attempted to arrest them on a drunkenness warrant.

Civil cases are due to be called Wednesday. Court attaches said the term would extend into next week.

College Sets Out Rules for Growing High Quality Leaf

High yields of top-quality tobacco require abundant fertility, approved varieties, control of insects and diseases, proper soil management, setting at the right time, cutting when ripe and correct curing, says information furnished Farm and Home Development families by the Extension Service of the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Points set out in the statement:

Test the soil and fertilize according to its needs for phosphorus and potash. For highest quality, select well-drained sod land and use proper amounts of manure and fertilizers.

Set certified disease resistant varieties. Control wildfire with biostone lime and proper plant bed construction, and control blue mold by using fermate or dithane Z-78.

If black shank is in the neighborhood, use extreme care to prevent its being brought into the field. Don't grow tobacco in fields where there was black shank last year, and take precaution to see that it is not brought on the farm or spread from field to field on machinery and the like.

Plow grass sods early, green cover crops at 18 inches high or when first heads appear. Do not break land or work it when wet.

Set the crop early, using plants produced at home. Plants brought in may not be the variety wanted and may have wildfire or other diseases on them, such as mosaic or black shank.

The Meade County Homemakers Advisory Council voted to contribute 46 books to the county bookmobile.

Tax Declaration Due By Feb. 15

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 5.—Kentucky farmers have until February 15 to make a declaration of estimated 1954 state income taxes, if they wish to follow this method.

Department of Revenue officials pointed out that there are three possible methods for the farmer to pay his 1954 income tax. The first and easiest is simply to file his final return and pay his state tax by February 8. By using this method, the farmer is not required to file any declaration.

A second method open to the farmer is to declare his estimate 1954 income by February 15 and pay the estimated tax. He must then file a final return by April 15.

The third method is available if he filed a declaration last November 15. In case he has until April 15 to file his final return and pay the remainder of his tax.

Any person who earns at least two-thirds of his income from farming may use these methods of paying state income tax.

Forms for filing declarations and final returns are available at banks, county courthouses, and Department of Revenue offices in Frankfort, Lexington, Ashland, Covington, Louisville, and Paducah.

State Farms Food Worth $1,154,647

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 5.—Farms at five State welfare institutions and four mental hospitals produced food valued at $1,154,647 last year, Charles M. Stagner, director of the Division of Agricultural Production for the Department of welfare announced here today.

Included was $414,363 worth of vegetables, milk valued at $369,313, $301,441 worth of meat, and eggs worth $59,500.

Leading in production was the farm at the State Reformatory at LaGrange where food was valued at $292,764. Other farms and their production:

Central State Hospital, Lakeland near Louisville, $170,438; Western State Hospital, Hopkinsville, $162,562; Kentucky State Hospital, Louisville, $130,990; State Penitentiary, Eddyville, $124,079; Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, $117,702 near Lexington, $70,635; Kentucky Training Home, Frankfort, $63,564, and Kentucky Childrens Home, Lyndon, near Louisville, $15,856.

Production was sufficient to provide 1.5 pints of milk and 2.2 pounds of vegetables a day for each patient and inmate.

More Red and Alsike Clover Seed Needed

Farmers must decide within the next few weeks how best to meet the problem of short supplies of red and alsike clover seed, say U. S. Department of Agriculture agronomists. The seed supply of these two legumes is the smallest in years.

Reduction in seeding rates offers one solution to the problem, explain the agronomists, especially if coupled with good seeding methods along with proper liming and fertilizing. They point out that reducing the amount of red clover in seeding mixtures has been used in other years of shortage to stretch seed supplies.

Substitution of other legumes for red or alsike clover is another solution under many circumstances, say the agronomists. Fortunately, seed supplies of Ladino white clover and most alfalfa varieties are abundant enough to help fill in where supplies of alsike and red clover seed are short. There is more than twice as much certified Ladino seed on hand this year as used in any previous year. Alfalfa seed supplies are at record levels and well above anticipated domestic consumption. However, export demand for both alfalfa and red clover seed has stepped up in recent weeks to the point that the combined domestic supply will not greatly exceed last year's total domestic consumption.

The agronomists say that while Ladino is most widely used as a pasture legume, experiments show it is efficient in fixing nitrogen and can be used in many cases as a green manure crop. In Iowa, for example, during two years of favorable moisture, corn yields following Ladino turned out were higher than corn yields following other legumes in the test. Yields after Ladino were higher than yields from corn receiving 51 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

The agronomists urge farmers to consult their county agents early for specific recommendations on suitable legume mixtures that can be planted this spring for hay, pasture or green pasture.

House Democrats Seek 90 Pct. Crop Supports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—House Democratic farm leaders today launched their promised attempt to overturn President Eisenhower's flexible farm-price-support system and restore rigid high supports.

House Agriculture Committee, Democratic controlled, agreed at a secret session to speed action on a bill to restore 90 percent of parity price supports on basic crops.

Chairman Cooley (D., N. C.) said brief hearings would be held, probably starting next week, with Agriculture Secretary Benson as the first witness.

Federal School Help Is Sought

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 5.—Kentucky's Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler has appealed to the Senate Committee on Education and Labor to approve measures to provide federal aid to states to meet "pressing school building problems." He was before the committee in Washington last week.

"In the past ten years, Kentucky has more than doubled its support of effort, Kentucky has not kept pace with her sister states and educational opportunities offered her children are still grossly inadequate and fall short of those afforded children elsewhere. "If Kentucky's boys and girls are to be housed in school facilities that are not adequate for a modern educational program, Federal aid for school construction is imperative. If Federal financial assistance can be secured for school construction, then state and local funds can be released for other educational services."

Butler appealed for support of measures offered by Kentucky's Senator Clement and other Senators for aid in this field and advised against having to await another White House conference on the subject.

During the last two years, Kentucky's school districts spent more than $32,000,000 for capital outlay purposes. Of this total outlay, more than $4,000,000 was received from the Federal government for buildings, improvements to buildings, for sites and improvements to sites. During 1954, Kentucky's school districts issued school building revenue bonds for $20,300,000.

The superintendent estimated it will require $350,000,000 by 1960 to provide Kentucky's school districts with needed new facilities and renovation of old facilities. Present taxing resources are sufficient to amortize $190,000,000 in school house construction, of which $60,000,000 already is outstanding, leaving resources sufficient to retire only $130,000,000 additional in revenue bonds.

"Accordingly, there would still be a deficit of $220,000,000 between ability of Kentucky's school districts to finance the needed program and the estimated total cost of program. Actually, the deficiency would be greater. Federal aid is imperative," he concluded.

TO ENLARGE REA STATION AT FORD

WINCHESTER, Ky., Jan. 15.—Dale power station at Ford on the Kentucky River by 1957 will have a capacity of 106,000 kilowatts, making it the largest rural electric cooperative power plant in the United States.

East Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation announced this today in awarding four contracts totaling $2,306,690 for a new 66,000 kilowatt generating system at Dale.

Completion of the new unit will give the plant its record capacity. The full cost of the latest unit, the third, will be nearly $4,000,000 and will be the largest unit in R.E.A. use.

East Kentucky's headquarters here is the central office for 16 rural electric cooperatives.

FORMOSA VITAL

(Continued from page eleven) has become necessary to change and modify the program to meet new conditions they have taken the lead in discussions and the initiative to assure that the tobacco industry stays strong and vigorous.

Change in administrative policy in the last year has dried up the availability of surplus supplies of the Federal government equipment badly needed by our schools, hospitals, and related institutions.

J. B. Williams, Surplus Property Administrator for the Commonwealth, attended a meeting in Washington last week on this matter.

I am joining with other Senators to introduce legislation to make this surplus equipment, for which the government no longer has use, available to these institutions.

DURING FEBRUARY

On Purchases of 1/2 Ton or More

• Southern States Cooperative has again taken the lead in helping farmers ease the squeeze between dwindling farm income and continued high costs of producing milk, meat, and eggs. Southern States and Cooperative Service Agencies have joined in arbitrarily slashing prices on formula feeds during February at the rate of $4.00 per ton under current bag-lot prices, on orders of one-half ton or more at one time (one or more feeds may be included in total order). This reduction applies on all feeds except (1) Southern States Drought Emergency Dairy Feeds; (2) Southern States feeds supplied under contract feeding programs; (3) scratch grains; (4) grain goods; and (5) ingredients.

Though prices have been cut sharply, there has been no reduction in the usual high quality of Southern States feeds. They will continue to give you the most for your feed dollar.

Family Refinishes Antique Furniture And Save $2,350

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Eades of Clark county estimates that they have saved approximately $2,350 on antique furniture they have refinished over the past several years. They value the 46 or more pieces they have redone at $3,000, the cost of supplies totaling $650.

Mr. Eades does the necessary rebuilding or cabinet work and Mrs. Eades does the refinishing of wood, caning, upholstering. Pieces redone include dressers, tables, chairs, sugar chest, corner cupboards, wardrobes, rosters, beds, love seats and dough trays.

Interest in refinishing furniture resulted from information learned by Mrs. Eades at the Cotton Branch Homemakers Club with which she has been affiliated for 29 years. A charter member, she has taken advantage of many different types of projects offered, said Mrs. Lucille Clark, home demonstration agent with the University of Kentucky.

This homemaker and her husband also modernized their kitchen by installing a water system, adding a built-in sink, rearranging equipment to save steps, and adding a desk for a business center. Then they laid new floors in three other rooms, papered and painted walls and woodwork, redid a mantel which had belonged to Mrs. Eades' great grandfather, and reupholstered most of their furniture.

With an early appreciation of the beauty and value of antique furniture, the Eades picked up some pieces for a few cents which later were given high value after they were refinished.

J. B. Judy of Montgomery county sold for $57.90 a hundred 8,544 pounds of tobacco grown on 4.4 acres.

will soon begin. More food on a credit, the bills run high. Our grocery store dealers never ask us why.

NOVEMBER finds us working away, grading tobacco and other chores each day. The days grow chilly, we just can't loose, to buy warm clothes and overshoes. There's the Kenzie Brown, we ain't tried him yet. We could get our clothes over there, I bet. Then the same old story get around. "We haven't any money, just put it down." Nannie K. Haney, our post master, don't think us tramps if we don't give enough money to pay for our stamps. She looks at us as calm as a lamb. "You know we can't cheat Uncle Sam."

DECEMBER drives our cares away. Tobacco is graded and on its way, to the good old market to bring us cash. We'll pay our debts in one big splash. With the tobacco check, the farmers return, to the West Liberty bank he goes in a run. "Cash or credit," the bankers say. "Cash—I have my debts to pay. I will feel just like a cheat, if I don't get my tax receipt." To Victor's, Orpha's and Kenzie Brown's too, the farmers pay debts the whole day through. He gets home, his pocket book looking thin, and says, "I got enough left to start 'er all over again."

APRIL comes, the farmers still are plowing on low land and hill. MAY comes along; the farmers smile. "Now, little lady, you help a while." Here they go together, through garden and farm. No job is too tough to cause alarm.

JUNE is the month between sallet and beans, all small farmers know what that means. Most of our food comes from the store, we work and eat and wish for more.

JULY brings food from our gardens, fine, our tobacco and corn are growing in due time.

AUGUST brings more work to do, topping, suckering tobacco, and the canning job too. Food we don't raise we have to buy. Hubby comes in and begins to sigh, "You know, ole lady, it's no joke—my pocketbook's empty, I'm almost broke." Then hubby gives a relieving sigh "Oh, there's really no need to cry. There is Orpha Hamilton and Victor Conley's store. We'll get this bill on credit, but not any more."

SEPTEMBER we begin to cut our corn, cut tobacco and hang it in the barn. We give our grocer a hard old time, "No, I'm sorry, we hain't got a dime."

OCTOBER, the crops are all brought in. The tobacco grading

TOBACCO WORRIES. Many people over Kentucky are alarmed about the tobacco situation. With surplus stocks creeping higher, farmers are faced now with smaller allotments and lowered prices. It is estimated that the income from the 1955 crop will be at least 50 million dollars less than from the 1954 crop. That will mean a decrease in purchasing power for the majority of people in Kentucky, whether they are farmers or not. What hurts tobacco in this state hurts us all.

There are two general solutions to the problem. One, do something about tobacco itself—endeavor to produce more of the light cigarette type—and two, hasten a "diversification" program on Kentucky farms. Russell Hunt, our Mr. Tobacco, has some pertinent suggestions on the first. He recommends that tobacco be in rotation so that it follows sod at least every other year; that the application of nitrogen be kept to a minimum, and phosphorus and potash be maintained at a very high level. Certain cultural practices also aid in reducing the nicotine content. We all have high hopes, too, that research workers will soon have desirable types of low nicotine tobacco.

ONE-CROP FARMING is a curse on anybody's farm whether he is a producer of tobacco, corn, cotton, cattle or what not. Russell's recommendation will boost diversification in Kentucky because most crops grow well after tobacco. This is particularly true of strawberries and alfalfa.

Strawberries are an excellent supplement for tobacco on the small farm. Berries, properly care for, will usually equal tobacco in income per acre. Alfalfa follows tobacco well on farms with large allotments and a larger production of alfalfa will encourage more sheep and more economical production of other livestock.

Twenty years ago I was County Agent at Paducah, in which area nearly 1000 carloads of strawberries were produced annually. At that time I was considered a near expert in berry production, but last month while attending the State Horticultural Society I found how much progress had been made in their culture, and how little I knew about modern berry growing. The berry grower now has "virus-free" plants to insure freedom from certain diseases; chlordane to control grubs, cutworms and aphids; "Crag" herbicide and geese to control weeds and grass; and irrigation to prevent drought damage. With a combination of these new developments, the berry grower of today can expect double and triple yields of a few years past. But to unto the grower who tries to produce berries without at least some of these modern aids. He will be lost to his competitors before he starts.

It will soon be too late to get started in berries this year. Early setting is one essential in getting a good stand. The earlier they are set in March the easier it is to obtain a stand. Plants are scarce, too, so the berry acreage will not increase too much this year. If you are in a new berry area and are interested in growing them, better see your county agent about them now.
